Chief Smith inquired about grant updates that might be available from BEMS. Ms. Goodin indicated that the per capita grant data was due January 30th. Given that this deadline was so recent, the reporting data is not yet available. She reminded the council that the competitive grant will be due in March.

The group at large asked Ms. Goodin regarding the status of the Ketamine protocol revisions. She anticipated the official announcement to be communicated by the end of February.

Other Business

An expression of thanks by Intermountain Life Flight for staff coverage and support at the service of Tyson Mason was extended. This included appreciation for a fly over at the services and to Air Med who handled patients.

Tami Timothy inquired about the access and availability of Narcan for law enforcement/first responders. Group discussion identified that rescue kits are now available over the counter. No prescription is required. A website, naloxoneutah.org, was shared to identify pharmacies that carry Narcan.

Austin Fullmer inquired about log in processes with Image Trend update, specifically regarding whether an individual or group log in access is available to access run sheets. Ms. Goodin advised that individual log in access is in place. Group questions regarding paperwork response timeframes and the varying preferences of Healthcare facilities were also discussed. Chief Smith stated that the most critical component at the onset of care is to provide a working narrative between EMS and Healthcare providers to promote the continuation of care. Consistency in processes is needed. He tasked Ms. Fullmer to gather group consensus of all area hospitals that Davis County EMS transport to. These findings will guide further discussions regarding State Rules.

Captain Kyle Nance, new training officer with Syracuse, and Bryson Westbrook, with Air Med, were introduced as new EMS Council at large participants.
